Eileen always had a wonderful personality that made her customers smile and laugh as they did their shopping in the store. This personality of Eileen's was experienced by everyone that was blessed enough to get to know her. She always approached people with humor, and made people laugh with her jokes, and playful funloving personality. and her husband, Larry moved to North Carolina in 2009 to be with her kids and grandkids.

Eileen was a dedicated wife, mother, and Grandmother first and foremost. She treasured family. She treasured her children and grandchildren and embraced every moment with them. She especially loved her role as GeeGee. She loved her great grands and they loved her as well. Even as her health started to fail her, her great grands loved to come visit, and hop in the bed with her for hours, laughing, and playing with her. She had such a vivacious personality and always made people around her laugh, even the kids. Eileen also spent some time in the church.
