

Ms. Louise Daniels

January 3, 1939 - March 9, 2019

Louise was born in Pitt County on January 3, 1939 to the late Ruth Jordan and Edward Hardison. She passed away on Saturday, March 9, 2019. She was 80 years old.

Louise was a wife and mother of two sons. She lived in New Jersey many years of her life, but returned to her hometown in North Carolina where she spent the rest of her life. She was a member of English Chapel Church. She was a lively individual with a huge smile and she left an impression with her outgoing personality on everyone she met. She loved to laugh and she loved matching colors in her outfits. She enjoyed showing her sense of style along with a matching hat wherever she went. She was also a hardworking and hospitable person who enjoyed sharing what she had and making people feel at home. When her health began to fail she became a resident of East Carolina Rehab and Wellness. There is where she spent her final days as the staff took very good care of her. Louise was preceded in death by her husband Henry Curtis Daniels, her son Edward Earl Daniels, her brother James Tony Hardison, her brother Linwood Ray Hardison, her sister Nancy Hardison, and her sister Ruth Hardison,

Louise is survived by her son Henry L. Hardison, her brother Henry Hardison, her brother Curtis Barnes, her sister Isabelle Cates, her sister Ramona Hardison, and her sister Carolyn Jean Laughinghouse; also, nieces, nephews, great nieces, great nephews, and a host of family and friends.

“ Aunt Tang was so full of life! She ALWAYS made me smile and laugh whenever I went to see her. I admired her love of people and her hospitable personality. She would share whatever she had. I will always remember her for that. I miss you Aunt Tang.
