“ Growing up she was the best big sister anyone could ask for. She was so cool in my eyes. Amanda had so many friends and was always doing everything she wanted no matter what, just having fun without a care in the world. I looked up to her for always being so independent and doing everything on her own. I will miss her a lot, and I know she is with my mom, brother, and grandpa looking down on us and especially looking down on all her kids. I love you Amanda, we will miss you so much.
