

Mrs. Astria Coppage

November 21, 1977 - February 19, 2023

Astria Aquenette “Ackie” Coppage was born to Jesse and Maggie Coppage on November 21, 1977. This beautiful, bouncing baby girl proved to be gifted and intelligent from the beginning. Excelling in school and in just about everything she put her hands to, she was a friend to everyone she met.

After completing her early education in the Martin County school systems, she briefly attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where she played on the intramural basketball team. She later served in the US Army and then attended East Carolina University where she got her degree in social work. This degree set her up for one of her many professional pursuits.

In her professional life Astria would say she was a jack of all trades, the master of none. She worked at the real crisis center for the suicide hotline. This is a job that requires real compassion as well as skill, both of which Ackie had in abundance. She was a talented barber owning and operating her own shop. She also owned and operated a successful landscaping business and was an herbalist. These professional pursuits all came after her time serving as a church musician and gifted singer/soloist.

Astria became the mother of Aminah on September 19, 2002, a little girl who shared her beauty and smile. She was united in marriage to Lukisha Austin on October 4, 2020. The two of them shared a love of travel and of nature. When asked what memory of Astria is currently strongest of Ackie, Kisha said, it was her availability, while Aminah says it was her strength and her words of wisdom. Specifically, advice that no matter what comes your way, always “keep your mind right,” and “you’re stronger than you know, even in your weakest moments.”

Leaved to cherish her memory are her wife, Lukisha; daughter, Aminah; stepson, Syncere; parents, Jesse and Maggie; brother, Ashton (Lakisha); niece, Arie; nephews, Aiden and Kash, a special “niece” Kennedy, and too many aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends to name.

Everyone has but one life to live.

And the best one lived is the one you give.

Give freely and joyfully without fear or shame.

Give free and leave empty, just like you came.

Astria lived that best life and her family challenges you to do the

“ I kept waiting until I'm in a better place to post but the truth is there is not a day that will come that will be easier to accept that I won't see Ackie's beautiful smile...hear her infectious laugh...or feel bigger because she was everyone's biggest cheer leader....We just have to accept the plan of The Most High and know that he needed her more....even if it hurts....she's at peace...and to be absent in this body is to be present with Lord...

“ I come here today to celebrate the life of Astria Coppage. I knew Astria for the short year and half that we worked together. I didn't grow up with her nor did I know her outside of the workplace. But she provided me with a lot of guidance & words of wisdom when I needed help pushing through.

I first met Astria when I started working at the REAL Crisis Center in Greenville, NC in 2017. I remember her walking through those doors happy & full of life, and one of the counselors said to her "Astria shhhh." I knew immediately that she was the type of person that I wanted to surround myself with. She was also the first person to have me try oxtails for the first time and it was surprisingly delicious. I struggled a lot in this career trying not to allow the stress of the callers affect me. In the short time that I knew Astria, she taught me how to be mentally strong & even more resilient than I am today. She taught me not to let people get inside my head & make me feel less than I am. She stood up for me when I needed it & defended me when I wasn't able to defend myself.

I try not to question you God, but I dont quite understand why you had to take her so soon. Maybe you needed her help preparing for the party were gonna have when we all arrive in heaven. Maybe you knew that there was an obstacle coming our way & you needed her help defending her family and friends like she did for me. Whatever the case may be, I know that you were there to receive her with open arms. 🕊️🌸

“ Astria has been one of the few most genuine, honest, fun and loving people I've ever met. She helped me professionally and personally grow. I've always enjoyed seeing her randomly in the community. She always made sure to stop and have a conversation - never just a wave or a simple hey. Astria had an energy about her that made others feel welcome, safe, and loved. And she also knew how to get you to laugh.

My sincere condolences are sent to her family and friends. She impacted many and gave light to whomever she met. While I've never met her daughter, I watched her grow up through pictures Astria would show me every time we saw each other, and you could feel the love she had for her.

The amount of love Astria had will not be forgotten, nor unfelt, even as she has walked on. I know she will continue to watch down on us all, probably making jokes and cracking everyone else up in the sky world.

Please know that others share in your loss and that you are not alone; however, there is someone who can ease the pain of any loss and lighten your burden and his name is JESUS. Family look to Him for your source of peace, comfort, and strength. In is Word it states that weeping may endure for a night but joy cometh in the morning. You may not understand at this appointed time, but farther along we'll know all about it, farther along we'll understand why, cheer up my brother live in the sunshine, and we will understand it all by and by. You would say, “Auntie, what you up to. What kind of cut you want this time.” Oh God, and when my dad was living, you looked out for him. You came to the house whenever I would call and say to you, dad said, it’s time for a haircut. Ackie you were there!! Thank you so much. You have left your mark at our home. I look at the hedges and I see you. But you would not cut the tree with the red balls on it. You said, no no, Miss Mamie said don’t nobody cut her tree. I would say Ackie, go ahead and cut it. But you wouldn’t do it. Thank you the encouraging words that you would share with me. Thank you for the teas as well. You will be missed by everyone that know you. You touched a many of lives.
