“ “May the work I've done speak for me” To the family of James C. Corbett, may your hearts be lighten in days to come reflecting on the works of "JC" as he was affectionately called by friends and co-workers. A former P&G technician, JC was a born leader and was determined to get good results in all his efforts. Known also for his great cooking abilities and collecting orders for the holiday. He was always smiling and laughing, family hold those precious memories close to your hearts and God will soon replace your tears with joy. Our hearts are sadden, but we too have memories that will never die and bring a smile to our faces at the name of J.C. Corbett, rest in peace our friend.
