“ I’m glad we spoke and was able to see each other before your transition. Rell, (sigh) it took Kirk to say mom, have you spoke to Uncle Jerel? I said yeah we spoke once moved we always talk. I said let me call him and start dialing the number and it pops up green. I’m like no...it can’t be green it has to be blue. And then I saw. You already know lol (our phrase) I’m prayed instantly for the family especially your father and Shawn and Trina. Yo...I’m thinking of everyone right now! I’m glad that through one person but truly it was all God we became brother and sister. You are forever with us. I was driving down the highway and I just got quiet. Kirk understood and knew what that meant and he respected it. Wow!!!! But God even in this we thank you. I guess I should make some peas now lol you know I don’t like peas but you cooked them for me when my grandma died. They was good. But you know I don’t fool with them lol. Wow! Thank you God for Jerel.

Love,
Candy

“ This passage from the Great Gatsby speaks to Jerel's smile perfectly: "He had one of those rare smiles with a quality of eternal reassurance in it, that you may come across four or five times in life. It faced, or seemed to face, the whole external world for an instant and then concentrated on you with an irresistible prejudice in your favor. It understood you just as far as you wanted to be understood, believed in you as you would like to believe in yourself."

“ When my daughter brings her friends home to meet me, many times they become my children or we remain close even if we don't speak often. If they run into me, it's always with a "Hi Mom or Ms Wiltshire". He always greeted me as "MaaaMaaaa" in his loudest voice!

I truly believe that, he had such a positive spirit and talked about the Lord, so I have to believe he knew Him. It breaks my heart that God needed him and called him home so soon in his earthly life.

Everytime I saw him he had the biggest smile and was always so polite. To me, he had a "little boy" personality, you just had to love him.

While here, live, love, laugh, and leave a positive mark in the world as he did. Special condolences to his immediate family and all who loved him, SIP Jerel.

Much love, MaaMaaa!
