*Johnny, no! I called you the other day didn't know you hade left this world. I said well his phone is stating something crazy and then I texted you just hoping you would text me back. well it's been a week on so I decided to google you and I am so sad. You were my best boyfriend back in the day. The last time we talk was in February or so, wow I will never hear your voice again. As you would always call me "girlfriend". I will truly sis you.
