“ My condolences to the family of Mr. Johnny Wooten. Mr. Wooten was my music teacher and my Band Director from 1958 through the end of the school year in 1962, which was when my mother relocated our family to Connecticut. Mr. Wooten made that period in my life so much fun and I remembered looking forward to the next music class and band practice - - - AWESOME MEMORIES - - - He was a great teacher! Often, over the years, I would share the memories with my children and my grandchildren. I am all the more blessed to have had Mr. Wooten as a teacher. Thank you Mr. Wooten - - - One day I will see you in glory. - Jean Mouning-Mackritis

“ "The Maestro" , "The Music Man", Mr. Wooten, will forever hold a place in the hearts of those of us whose lives were blessed with his presence. He made a difference in so many lives. For most of us, he was the only band director, that we ever knew. I was fortunate to have Frank Norris Junior {my uncle's son} as another band director in my family. Johnny Wooten was the second one that I knew. I spoke with Mr. Wooten, and his beautiful wife Althea, just two days before his transition. Thank God for that communication. He is now lifting his "renewed" eyes in Glory. The music continues...With Love, Gloria BrewingtOn -Person

“ From New Haven, Connecticut, I extend my deepest condolences to the entire family of Mr. Johnny Wooten. I am in my 80s now and I've known Mr. Johnny Wooten for many years. And so, with the highest regard, due to our similarity in age, and longtime friendship, from time to time in this tribute, I'll call Mr. Wooten, Johnny. Johnny was my school friend, college friend and family friend. It is my honor to join the chorus of relatives and friends who mourn the loss of Johnny Wooten, a Greenville hero and builder. Through the years, as I moved from place to place, I heard of Johnny's good works from my mother and father, sister and cousins. I salute Johnny's accomplishments and leadership in many walks of life, including his laudatory performances in church music, community concerts, marching bands and his much talked about readiness and willingness to help.

I thank God that Johnny's legacy lives on. We need people like Johnny in times such as these. Years ago, in 2014, I voluntarily wrote a review of "Hear the Horns Blow: Greenville Area", a chapter in the essential guidebook, African American Music Trails of Eastern North Carolina (2013). In this chapter were life history stories of three prominent musicians, natives of Greenville, among whom was Johnny Wooten. "Hear the Horns Blow: Greenville Area", a published and well circulated book, gives a developmental picture of Greenville experiences of three great men born and reared in Greenville, including Music Educator Johnny Wooten and the paths each gentleman took to achieve his distinguished position in society. "Hear the Horns Blow", still available, is praiseworthy reading and through its pages, Johnny Wooten lives on. Thank God for Johnny Wooten's life well lived. May you be comforted in your memory of Johnny!

In sympathy at this time of your bereavement,
Dr. Ann Garrett Robinson, GCC Professor Emerita

“ Mrs Wooten, I am very saddened by the news of Mr Wooten's passing. I am praying for God's love, peace and comfort be with you at this time. Memories of Mr Wooten will always be with me. I can still remember him playing for all the choirs at York Memorial when my Dad, Rev. Dr. C. C. Satterfield, Jr was the pastor. He directed the young adult choir of which I was apart. I also enjoyed being part of the Eppes High School marching band and having him as our director. He was always very kind and loving toward everyone. Thanks to my college roommate and high school classmate, Phyllis Price, I've been able to maintain knowledge of how he has been doing. My Dad and I are thankful we had an opportunity to visit Mr Wooten a few years ago. I am sure if it were not for the current environment, Rev Satterfield would be a part of the celebration of his life. God continue to keep and bless you!! Lovingly, Alverta Satterfield Dixon

“ The Greenville industrial - Charles Montgomery Eppes High School Alumni Association and the entire "Eppes High Bulldog Nation" humbly offer these words to the family and in honor of a Man named Johnny A. Wooten.

This section is titled "Share A Memory." Well Mr. Wooten, it is a pleasant to share some of the many memories you created as a cornerstone of this association.

From the very beginning you were there lending assistance and forward looking insight into what this organization could become. You offered the idea of reuniting band members to play in the annual parade.

The word went out and the call was answered. They came, they practiced and they performed until they couldn't perform any more. Why? Because Johnny Wooten put the call out.

Then, you put the call out to organize an Alumni Choir. Again, they came, they practiced, they performed and to your honor, they continue to perform,

For so many years, the Annual Business Breakfast was opened by you with a hymn and closed by you with the singing of the Alma Mater, of which you wrote the music.

Before all of these happenings, you organized the North Carolina Joint Council on Health and Citizenship choir to help improve the health and hygiene of students throughout much of Eastern North Carolina.

We are deeply sadden at your passing, But, oh so thankful to God for Him allowing us to be the recipients of the multitude of talents He blessed you with and you so graciously shared them with us for decades.

When growing up, we heard the phrase "Hometown Boy Makes Good." Well if there were ever one to rightly wear that title, it sir is you. Born, breed, feed and turned around and feed so many, just because it was who you were as you answered your calling.

Words are so shallow to accurately define the impact you had on countless students, not just in music, but all across the educational spectrum.

We use words like integrity. Bob Marley said it this way: "The greatness of a man is not in how much wealth he acquires, but in his integrity and his ability to affect those around him positively." The positive affects of Mr. Wooten will live on from generation to generation.

We again thank God for the kind heart that was in your chest. The smiles that always preceded a warm hello, followed by "what are you doing with your life?"

As the song says "Thanks for the memories." We cherish them and we honor you for the life you lead before us.

Family, just know that he is somewhere around the throne playing a Hammond like he never played it before, smiling and rejoicing. This is what we have to hold on to!

Rest in peace, "Maestro."

“ If only I had one more time to sit in your wisdom and comfort. I could tell you again what you meant to me ... I could tell you what you meant to me as a friend. But sadly, time is not a respecter of person, eventually death will come for all at its own pace. And the ebb and flow of life, gives and takes as we drift in its' course. Sometimes it is a gentle flow, and at others, it is a turbulent rapid, and it was during my turbulent times, that you were there for me. You were there, and you not only helped me out of the water but became a bridge that provided a passage to solid ground.

Thank you for being a bridge.

You embraced me as a brother and a son, showering me with your wisdom, knowledge, and encouragement when I needed it most. Your steady presence gave needed comfort and a place of retreat.

Thank you, Johnny, for providing refuge and uplift.

I loved you like family, and you returned the same by allowing me into yours, you treated me as a son, and blessed me with a relationship full of mutual love and respect. Johnny, you were truly a lamp burning bright, a beaming beacon in Omega.

Thank you for being a mentor.

Your love and caring were evident in the lives you touched. I was never surprised when your name was uttered in faraway places and at respected tables. You were a teacher who loved his students and understood that your job was not only to instill the love and craft of music but to build a community, one student at a time. You were a man whose love for his family was evident in every word you spoke about your children and wife. Thank you for allowing me a glimpse, I am a better person, husband and father because of you.

Thank you, Johnny, for being a builder of men.

You freely shared your spirit and humor, and I have learned so much from you. We have all shared many laughs with you; and even though you were never too old to learn anything, I was too old and stubborn to learn music, but I am working on my potted garden now; you would be proud of my tomatoes!

Thank you for being a spreader of joy.

Your strength and perseverance was evident to all who knew you, always walking upright with strength and fortitude. And as your body began to fail, your spirit grew more muscular; you always greeted everyone with a smile, word of encouragement, or piece of wisdom. The last we met, your sight was gone, but you were never blind. You had the most precise vision ever because your eyes were trained on the things of God ... Church, Family, Friends, and Fraternity.

Thank you, Johnny, for being a seer of souls!

As you move onto to accept your eternal reward, know that we will miss you. Personally, I will miss you more than you will ever know, my friend and brother, the dearest of Omega.

So rest in peace and rise in power, for you fought your battles, you built your bridges and you saw your mission to the end.

You have joined the council of ancestors, and I promise to walk in the example of manhood you set and demonstrated in your life.

Until we meet again, please look down upon us all with favor from Omega Chapter.

With deepest condolences to the family you loved so dear,

Brother Dr. Kevin Wade Burton, Sr., NuAlpha 3-11

“ At C.M.Eppes between the late 50's through the 1960's, Mr. Wooten had a special relationship with all students, whether or not they were in the band. I can't list all the ways he touched my life. He taught me appreciate hymns as well as contemporary gospel music. He taught me to play the trombone. He introduced me to mass choir organizing techniques. He inspired me to become an organist. Without a doubt, hundreds of us can tell of wonderful experiences with him because he really had a way of making each student feel special. He was more like a friend than just another teacher. His legacy is without parallel because he had a way getting into the hearts of students, choir members and most all others who were fortunate enough to have crossed his path. We are all blessed by Mrs. Wooten, Andre` and the rest of his family for the way that they shared Mr. Wooten with us. May memories of happier times bring you strength and comfort. ”

My Deepest Condolences to the Wooten Family. Mr. Wooten will forever remain in my heart. He was an extraordinary music teacher of the art, a mentor and friend. He always make me feel a part of his family. I am forever grateful for him being such a loving & devoted grandfather to my son. He will surely be missed.
