“ Once you met him, you could never forget him.

His brilliant orange cosplay, and the brightness of his smile.

My wife and I last saw him in February(2020) at Katsucon, ate some candy and shared hugs and laughter.

Everything about this singular man was sweet, save for his loss.

*...We will continue to look for him,
when a shock of orange
passes through the crowds,
and remember only good times,
Because there were, only good times.*

RIP, Reese's Man.

“ What can one say about Joshua Morrison, the one and Only Reece's Man? I had heard stories about him for years, but I can say that after becoming friends with him, the legends did not do him justice. Josh was a man of incredible, kindness, gentleness, and was sweeter than the candies he gave out to people. When I first met him, I didn't know him from anyone, but he immediately treated me like we were old friends. His presence illuminated any space he was in, and in all the years I knew him, no one ever had an unkind word to say about him. The world is a better place because of his brief existence, and I am eternally grateful for the privilege of getting to call myself his friend, and for the lessons of generosity and kindness he was able to teach, just by being himself. My heart aches, and I am still in disbelief that such a wonderful man was taken from us far too soon.

“ Josh,

Bro, you know I love you. I cherish every single second I got to spend with you. The parties, the talks by the fire pit, going out to eat, the beach vacation...just every last little moment. You were one of the most special individuals I have ever met. Truly a good person who lit up every room. Miss you, man. Now and forever. Rest in power.

“ Even though we only met at the cons and on Twitch. I thought of you as a brother and a great dude to hangout with. You were so kind to me and my team at Animazement and gave us candy when we were working late. Rest well my friend.

“ This wonderful, amazing guy that's not ONLY my friend but pretty much a brother to me. It's cause of him that I went to conventions and even cosplay with my very own thing. You have, and WILL ALWAYS BE, recognized as the one and only Reese's Man and cause of that you gave birth to the group Candy Crusaders and it was fun and an honor to be you candy rival known as the Butterfinger Bandit. I cherished ALL the good times we had and wish you was still here so we candy have more epic rivalry scenarios. I will treasure your memory and the cosplay fire you ignited in not just me, but SO many others. The Candy Crusaders will push forward and we will NEVER forget our main Crusaders leader, The Reese's Man.

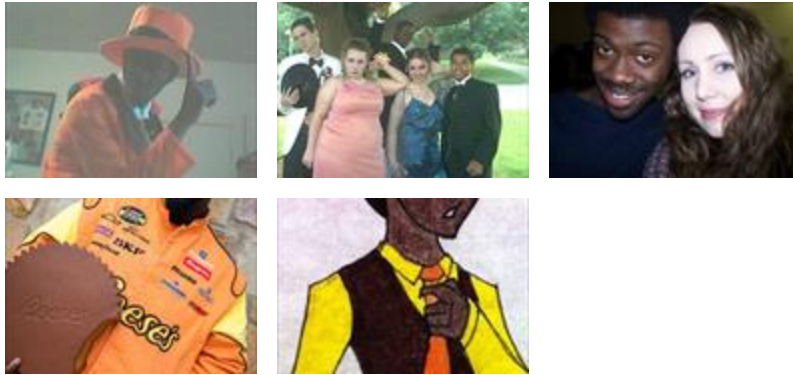

I miss you so much here man. It hurts like crazy but may you Rest In Power and I'll never forget about your S.P.I.R.I.T

“ I Love and Miss you JJ. The brightest light as dimmed only dimmed because we will keep you alive for as long as possible in every heart you touched which is a lot. Kids will hear stories, see your pictures, and videos so they can know the man, the myth, the legend of the one called The Reese's Man. A week later and I am still heartbroken and in disbelief. I am doing right by you and won't disappoint. I hope we meet again but sooner because nearly 20 years wasn't enough time with you. Love Always & Forever - DJ

“ Wednesday morning I woke up to learn that my dear friend Joshua Morrison had left us, and it broke me. I first met Joshua at Animazement 2011. My first year, as well as his. He dressed in a slightly over-sized orange suit with Reese's taped to his hat, and carried a bucket full of them to hand out. At the time, I thought he was such an interesting and sweet person, and little did I know how wonderful he really was. Since our first meeting, I looked forward to seeing him every year. When he once or twice thought he wouldn't be able to afford it, I budgeted to help him, but he always made it. When people ask me what's good about Animazement, I saw his face, his big grin and I heard his laugh. I've gushed about his unmatched kindness and love to countless people. Over time he wasn't just the Reese's Man, he was Joshua, my friend. He cheered me up when I experienced losses, such as my grandmother and my father in recent years, and he delivered his kindness to everyone he met. Joshua was filled with unwavering positivity and love, I have never been more lucky to have known someone. He was one of the kindest and sweetest people I have ever had the honor to call a friend. So when I learned we lost him, it devastated me. I still am heartbroken. It's hard to believe he isn't with us anymore. If there is one thing all of us can learn from Joshua, it's to take the smallest joys in life, like your favorite candy, and share that joy with as many people as possible. All of us who knew him are lucky enough to carry a Reese's Piece of him in our hearts, and he will be deeply and terribly missed. Rest in peace, Joshua. We love you. All of us do.

“ Josh was a true and pure human being and even now it is still hard to believe that he's gone. He made a friend in everyone he met even it were only once. I never thought I would be saying goodbye to you so soon my friend. I miss you every day and I hope you're sharing those Reese's in heaven with the other angels. I love you, man. So much.
