“ Wow. This is a shock and I am sad. I worked with Maurice on many platforms at Sprint and Nextel and there may be others. We taught each other stuff. We traveled together to multiple cities supporting our work. Although I have not seen Maurice for a few years, he was one of those guys that I could always count on if I needed him. We even once talk about him being a drill Sargent for an adult that was bothering my wife.

To the Glover Family: We are praying for you during this difficult time. May God send comfort to you and your family. Love you much. Linwood Chance and family.

Nestilene and Linwood chance - February 02, 2021 at 08:15 PM

I had the distinct pleasure of working, and being friends, with Maurice for the past 14 or so years, ever since Sprint bought Nextel. He was the 911 SME for Nextel, and I was one of them for Sprint. He knew his stuff, and was never afraid to learn more, but if he didn't like something, he would let you know. We never failed to kid one another about each others branch of service, go USAF, but we were brothers all the same.

May you rest in peace, Maurice, and may your family soon find contentment knowing he is in our heavenly fathers embrace, and no longer suffering the ills of this life. May your love flow down to all of us who called you friend. You will be missed!

William Cockerham - February 03, 2021 at 08:05 PM

Wow. Hard to believe this. I worked with Maurice on various platforms at Nextel & Sprint over the years. We traveled together to install and work on different systems. Maurice was sharp technically and personally. He was a good dresser (no jeans that I can recall) and always showed signs of a classy guy - even in the large modern SUVs he opted to drive. . At one point I asked Maurice to use his Drill Sargent skills to intimidate someone that was bothering my wife. He was willing to do that. It went away before he had to confronted the guy. I also let my young son know that i knew a drill Sargent that would be in his face if he was out of line. I recall once Maurice demonstrated these skills on me - when I asked him to. He was not trying to discipline me. My son finally met Maurice at an Ovetchkin DVD giveaway at best buy. My son respectively said Maurice was a big good guy.

Prayers to family and friends. We are all impacted by this loss. Please try to live on great memories. He impacted many people all in a positive way. Life is too short sometimes. Maurice was a good dependable friend and will be truly missed.
