“ Aunt Pat will definitely be missed. I never got the chance to sit at her table and enjoy the food her nephew reminisced about but the conversations, the laughs, the help in some critics in cooking, encouragement and always checking in on my own parents while going through their ailments. She was more than an Aunt to me but a friend. She opened her arms and heart and remained even after being one of my biggest cheerleaders. I am going to miss those conversations, the cheering, the lovely virtual flower arrangements and just God’s heavenly angel. Rest Easy Aunt Pat give my love to all my people, save me a seat at God’s table.

My heart felt condolences to the family and all her friends at this time.

“ How do I begin? Pat has been a big sister to me when I relocated home from Northern Virginia in 2009, and she returned home from Philadelphia. After her visit to our home in Alexandria, VA many years ago, we bonded, and our Great Dane, Major really protected her. When she visited our home, Major is the one that escorted her through the rooms! We spoke by telephone almost everyday and I took her to medical appointments in Washington, NC and Greenville, NC when her daughter Sonya could not. Just to share how thoughtful Pat was ... I hosted a Siblings Reunion one year, and guess who walked in the door? She was bringing in a huge pan of bread pudding. My siblings, David, John, Daisy, Carolyn and Barby could not wait to serve themselves. :-) During the course of many years, she always baked bread pudding for my husband Jim and I, and even though I claimed to be off of eating sweets, I just could not resist. Even our neighbor, Erick Ingram, wanted some of the delicious bread pudding. I miss Pat terribly already as we had our morning chats, and it was comical that whenever I called in the morning, she would have her music playing. The Lord does not make mistakes. He called another ANGEL home, and now Pat and my husband, Jim who made his transition on April 11 can laugh about us here on earth. Thanks, Pat for all the laughter - you were definitely the bright shining star here on this earth. I'll always remember us watching tennis and talking about the players on the telephone. Rest well dear sister, and just know, I will always keep in contact with Bernard, Sr., Sonya and Mariah. Love you, Brenda
